

COLE IS IN JAIL

He Agreed to Kidnap Maud Watson's Child

CAUGHT UP A TELEPHONE POLE

He Didn't Realize How Serious a Scrape He Was Getting Into—Maud Maud Watson to Get Her Child

JACKSON, Mich., March 8.—George J. Cole, a married man residing at No. 113 West Third street, this city, was arrested yesterday and taken to Lansing last evening on the charge of kidnaping a child, or rather attempting to, as the charges were defeated by Cole being knocked down and the child forcibly taken from him. Maud Watson a woman who has half a dozen children, has a girl five years old. The grandmother of the child, residing at Delta, seven miles from Lansing, took the little girl home with her some months ago to remove it from bad influences. For a time the mother was content, but lately she has declared she would have the girl back again, and the grandmother has refused to allow the child to go until the mother changed her mode of life or had a home. Last Friday Maud Watson employed Dennis Fasel to try to get the child, and as he would not go alone she got into a scrape.

The two, according to the allegations, it is said, went to Lansing on the afternoon train Friday, hired a rig and drove to the old lady's residence, reaching there after dark. To see how the land lay, Cole went into the house ostensibly to borrow a hammer, telling the old lady that his wagon wheel had broken. He saw the child in bed with its grandmother. This he reported to Fasel. It was determined that Cole should return the hammer, and once in the house grab the girl and rush for the wagon. He did his part of the grabbing all right, but met with resistance from the old lady and screams from the child. A neighbor, hearing the noise, intercepted Cole with the girl in his arms and struck him fair in the eye, knocking him down. On regaining his feet he fled, jumped into the buggy, and the two drove to Lansing, but came home on the midnight train.

The deputy sheriff who came here told the officers that the man he wanted had a black eye from the blow and Cole was found up a telephone pole on the street, and like Crockett's don, was cited to come down. The officer said he should return later on and arrest Fasel and the Watson woman for conspiring to kidnap the child.

Supreme Court Cases.

LANSING, March 8.—John S. Macbeth formerly of Denver, Colo., and of Canada, but now of Grand Rapids, was admitted to practice in all the courts of this state. Orders to show cause were granted in Beauchamp vs. Stanley, sheriff of Wayne county, Beala vs. Smith, circuit judge, and Snow vs. Board of Supervisors of Alcona county, returnable on the first day of the April term. Hearings in Lapham vs. Reilly, Wayne circuit judge, and Lang vs. same, were postponed. In Steele vs. German Insurance company, all proceedings were ordered stayed, and respondent given leave to again move to set aside judgment of affirmance and remittitur cause for hearing. In the matter of Frank Treat, petition for habeas corpus hearing was set for Thursday next at 2 p. m. Chief Justice Morse announced that the court would not sit at this term after this week, but that all cases now upon the docket might be submitted upon briefs and considered in their order and all cases not submitted at the end of the week would go over and stand at the head of the docket for the April term. The court will convene at some time during the month for the purpose of filing opinions, and no other business will be transacted. Cases submitted: (139) Sellie J. Miner et al. vs. Philip P. Miner et al.; (140) John Kimble vs. John Harrington et al.; (139) The Detroit, Grand Haven & Milwaukee railroad company vs. The City of Detroit; (140) The Commissioner of Parks and Boulevards vs. The Detroit, Grand Haven & Milwaukee railroad company; (141) Same vs. Detroit & Bay City railroad company et al.; (142) Same vs. Chicago, Detroit & Canada, Grand Trunk Junction railroad company et al.; (143) The People ex rel. Joseph M. Fuller vs. Lucian C. Palmer; (144) Hendriksen De Zwaan vs. Jan De Zwaan partially argued. Wednesdays Call—Nos. 145, 146, 147, 148, 149, 150, 151, 156.

Won by the Radicals.

LANSING, Mich., March 8.—About three years ago the U. B. church of this place was rent in twain, and ever since the church property in dispute, both factions claiming it. One party which has been known as the Radical U. B., has adhered to the old constitution, and the other party known as the Liberal U. B., has adopted a new constitution. A short time ago, the Liberals served an injunction on the Radicals for possession of the church property. The case came off before Judge Smith at Stanton, and the injunction was disposed of in favor of the Radicals on Monday, March 7.
